SAFARI SAM'S
DEC. 10

(Los Angeles, November 2008) – Beckie Lynn Productions and Paul Avion are pleased to announce the debut of the new BRIGHT LIGHTS, BIG CITY fashion / music show, coming to the newly relocated Safari Sam's Downtown, on December 10th, 2008.

FASHION

Runway models with a punk-'80s, urban appeal will showcase the wares of local designers such as MISS WAX, KAVIAR & CIGARETTES, VEECE, BOTWEAR and more.

The fashion show segment is being produced by Beckie Lynn Productions. Beckie's previous productions, such as "Roadkill," "Peep Show," and "What Goes On," have been seen at Star Shoes, Tatou, La Cita, Sky Drops Studio, Ultrastar Studio, The Echo, the Mountain Bar, and more.

PHOTOGRAPHY

"Nightlife Queen" SHADOWSCENE will be on hand to take pictures of you having the rocking fashion fun you deserve. And additional photography will be provided by MATADOR Y TOROS.

Shadowscene:

"If you haven't seen her bouncing around a club you've been in, snapping pictures of club goers at will, then you've certainly heard of her. If you haven't you're living under a rock - or lying." – LAist

"Johndro's affable, unpretentious demeanor renders her an unexpected night-life queen, but she hits as many as three parties a night." – LA Times

MUSIC

3 bands will play before and after the show:
Saint Motel, Par Avion Band and Mossy Stone.

Saint Motel:

"... lush pop arrangements that have the charm of Frankie Valley and the Four Seasons with the sexual fervor of The Stooges." – The Deli L.A.

"Jackson wooed the crowd with a warm and comforting voice, projecting an earnestness to melt any cynic's heart. A. Sharp, who howled mercilessly on his guitar while shamelessly flirting with the crowd; and, giving balance to the universe, bassist Dak, who masterfully provided a backbone to the music as he shuffled from right to left like a leaf caught in the pull of a breeze. Drummer Greg Erwin whipped himself into a frenzy, beating his drums with the ferocity of a man with his hands on fire; his playing gave life blood to the bouncy garage rock that radiated from the stage." – LAist

"... imploring, atonal, and irresistible garage glam ..." – Flavorpill

Par Avion Band:

"Like Hellogoodbye with Weezer, and a little bit of The Flaming Lips."
– America's College Music Magazine

"... shows a flare for pop that many bands/artists never touch"
– Intellectos

"... ridiculously catchy tales of lovers rummaging through European cities"
– West Coast Performer Magazine

Mossy Stone:

"Vocalist Lamson To introduces an indie-leaning influence while Harju brings a tongue-in-cheek bubblegum glam rock sound to the mix. Flynn is a blues guitarist and his influence sneaks its way in his guitar work. Sal is heavily influenced by bossanova and Latin rhythms. Together these sounds converge into Mossy Stone's signature sound that strays far away from any other trite indie band. There is an aura to Mossy Stone that almost leads the listener to believe these guys formed in the 70s." – Daily Sundial, CSUN

DJ Ross Angeles will provide cutting-edge entertainment between acts.
Gift Bags by Glitterati Magazine.
